Summary for the Week of October 27: Class Schedule Project

Status Report:

      We completed work on our verification alpha. After having sample Cucumbers done by Monday, we were unsatisfied, partly due to the lack of a concise rubric for the assignment. We spent Wednesday hashing out a cohesive rubric for project verification and the Verification Alpha due date was pushed to Friday. A new Alpha was done and pushed to the GitHub. We are now gearing to start implementing our project. Plans were made to get our database and login screens working.
